- 8. During the period from 23 June to 2 July, the former Oberlandesgericht on Domeplatz and the former officers' billets in the Erholung Hotel wase vacant. The Oberlandesgericht was guarded by a sentry wearing black-bordered crimson enaulets. (3)
- 9. During the period until 9 June 1952, source determined that the former German Heeresfeldzeugamt on Kroppental Strasse, referred to as camp I, housed a clothing depot with a large bekery and two ammunition depots. One of the depots was located in the former German Fanzerzeugamt. Guard duty there was performed by a detail of 60 soldiers wearing red-bord and black epaulets or black-bordered black epaulets who were daily seen marching to the installation from the Hubertus Kaserne on Fleminger Weg. Large quantities of clothing were stored in two storerooms in Camp I. The flour in one story of the building was presumably destined for the large bakery housed in a third building. The bakery was not in operation at the time of observation. Ammunition of various calibers and packed in different boxes was stored in the ground floors of four buildings in Camp II. Ammunition was also stored in earth bunkers in Camp III. Trucks had been seen repeatedly hauling ammunition via Kroppental Strasse and the country road south of Kroppental Strasse to Camp III during the preceding months.

(1) The 30 unnumbered trucks are definitely believed to be part of the motor vehicle exchange program and were presumably destined for the 57th Gds Mtz kifle wiv.

2) The documents found at Hubertus Kaserne presumably refers to a platoon of the unidentified AAA Regt of the XXIX Gos Htz Rifle Corps. G ds Lieutenant Vyskryabyantsev (fnu) is reported for the first time.

25X1 (3) The information again confirms the absence from the Naumburg elements of the XXIX Gds Mtz Rifle Corps and the 57th (ds Mtz Rifle Div, which are still carried at Kindel.
